

YOUTH AND POLITICS
 Democracy is the buzz word for our political system. Are we really satisfied with the way our country is being governed? The country desperately needs some young leaders who personify energy, enthusiasm, morality, and diligence. No doubt we have progressed a lot in the last 62 years but the development pace would have been completely different had some young torchbearers led this process of development. There can be two reasons for this displeasure of some of Indian politics. One may be that the youth today are not interested in actively participating in the political field. They are content with what they are doing and how the country is being governed. But this reason seems to hold no ground seeing the discontent shown by the youngsters towards cases like reservation, Jessica Lal murder case etc. The youth of modern India are aware of the problems facing our country and the world at large. Given a chance they would be ready to change the political condition of the country for better. Second reason may be that young people are not given opportunities to prove themselves claiming that they are not equipped with experience to participate actively in the governance of the country. This reason seems to be more logical seeing the monopoly of old leaders in almost all the major political parties of the country. Old people should realize that proper development can take place only when they make way for younger people to take control of the activities. There are few things which need to be clarified. One that youngsters do not mean people who are 20 years old with no experience at all. Youth in this context is meant to refer people who are in their 30's or early 40's with a good mix of energy and experience. Two, it is not intended to mean that old people should leave the political scene and rest. What is wanted is that they should be there but for guidance because they are treasures of invaluable experience. As for the youth of our country, they can contribute in more ways than just contesting elections. Much can be done in areas like educating people, raising awareness about various social ills, and many other areas. We can just wish that next time we go to vote we find more names of youngsters who can make our country a better place to live in.

आज़ादी
 क्या जीवन है आज़ादी की हमने कब यह जाना है अधिकारों की ही विना है फर्ज़ नहीं पहचाना है।

आज़ादी का अर्थ है क्या हमने कब पहचाना है हमने आज़ादी का महारण भटपट निकाला है।

आज़ादी के खेल को खेले हरिक्रम वाले बल्ले से हार के बदले हम पाठकों 'सद्व्यवस्था' दवालों से

आज़ादी में आज हमारा राष्ट्रपति शर्मिष्ठा है आज़ादी में नौ को गौरी देवेंदा बिज्जा है।

देशों आज़ादी का महारण हिन्दुस्तान हमारा है।

आज़ादी में आज हमारा राष्ट्रपति शर्मिष्ठा है आज़ादी में नौ को गौरी देवेंदा बिज्जा है।

IMPORTANT COMMUNICATION SKILLS
 When considering why communication is important, the bottom line is: if you're a good communicator, you'll have better chances of success. You will be able to persuade people, influence others, negotiate effectively and provide valuable feedback. You can inspire, motivate and encourage your team mates. You can convey your ideas better to your boss, you can make interesting conversation and network easier and you can speak with groups of people with self-confidence and credibility. The better your communication skills, the greater success you can achieve. The importance of communication skills cannot be understated. Communication is truly achieved when the sender and the receiver share an understanding of the communicated message. Many times, this is easier said than done.

Communication has two parts. The first is the communicator and how effectively he can convey his message to the listener. The second is how well the listener of the communication receives the message. There should be little or no misunderstanding, misinterpretation or confusion - if there is, the communication is not successful. Communication is truly achieved when the sender and the receiver share an understanding of the communicated message.

MAKE AIM IN LIFE

Aim or setting goal is important for every person because without aim man is directionless. Aim in life gives meaning to life. Person is incomplete without an aim in life. It is very important that an aim is formulated and efforts are put in to achieve that aim. The following question should stimulate your thinking: Where will you be and what will you be doing ten years from today if you keep doing what you are doing now? You have to be bold enough to ask of life more than you may, right now, feel you are worth it as an observable fact that people tend to rise to meet demands that are put upon them.

Setting your Goals

(a) Write down your goal. You will then begin to crystallize your thinking. The very act of thinking as you write will have a tendency to create an indelible impression in your memory.

(b) Give yourself a deadline. Specify a time for achieving your objective. This is important in motivating you; set out in the direction of your goal and keep moving towards it.

(c) Set your standards high. Now there seems to be a direct relationship between ease in achieving a goal and the strength of your motives. And the higher you set your major goal, generally speaking, the more concentrated will be the effort you make to achieve it. The reason: logic will make it mandatory that you at least aim at an intermediate objective as well as an immediate one. So aim higher. And then have immediate and intermediate steps leading towards its achievement. The following question should stimulate your thinking: where will you be and what will you be doing ten years from today if you keep doing what you are doing now?

(d) Aim high. It is a peculiar thing that no more effort is required to aim high in life, to demand prosperity and abundance, than is required to accept misery and poverty.

CHANGE ATTITUDE NOT LIFE STYLE

There are many who believe that to turn spiritual you have to change your wardrobe, diet and lifestyle and adopt a somber and boring pattern. This does not appeal to those who continue in their materialistic ways. A few inspired ones change everything except their thinking! They fail to benefit, get frustrated and give up. Rare is the wise one who focuses only on attitude. And succeeds!

Change is a fundamental choice in every situation, at every moment. You can be unhappy and complain. Or you can be happy and cheerful. It has nothing to do with the world or what it presents. You could have the best of things and still be miserable. You may have nothing and yet be delightously happy. The difference is in your attitude.

In life, everyone is denied a few things. But all of us have been blessed with millions of gifts. If you focus on what you do not have, you will be unhappy. If you choose to focus on the things you have, you are grateful and you develop an irresistible desire to share, contribute, and give. This makes you happy. The most precious things come for free, which you do not even consider! Hence you live life feeling deprived and deficient because in fact, you could be totally fulfilled and abundant.

The world and all that it offers is temporary, fleeting, passing. Understand the transient nature of the world while living in it and you will be happy. Transact with the world, enjoy it, but always remember that it will pass. Give it the right value, not the exaggerated value you have for it now.

ANTI-CORRUPTION

Nothing like an anti-corruption drive will be of any use in India to do away with corruption. It needs very serious steps to be undertaken the present system of Election, the present constitution, the present criminal laws and the present set of corrupt politicians should all be replaced, lock stock and barrel. You can not even imagine to do away with corruption while keeping the politicians who are totally used to the inveterate corrupt politics. There shall be no political parties. To eliminate them, the system of election should be done away with and members of the legislature should be selected by lot from the list of registered voters. The myth that election provides an opportunity to people for selecting able, meritorious, knowledgeable, honest members of the legislature by voting should be forgotten as the election by voting forces people to select one among the most undesirable and anti-socials that the political parties set up as candidates. And it leads to dynastic rule and entrenchment of castes and groups to the detriment of peace among people.
